

From Monday, 10/23 until November 20th, the mystery that is Scorpio manifests including a Full Moon in Taurus, All Hallows Eve, and a significant alignment with the Sun and Mercury, magnifying everything related to how you feel while helping to bring desires to the surface; with the waxing of the Moon, there is further emphasis on what is significant and those things you hold dear. As the Sun moves through Scorpio, there is a realignment of the sub-conscious, private matters and anywhere you may have closeted desires or emotions. With Jupiter also in Scorpio, it expands feelings giving the sensation of feelings brimming over, requiring some sort of outlet; everything felt and experienced seems bigger and more significant due to this heightening energy. A good way to approach this aspect is to see it as a great time of self-discovery and gaining valuable knowledge.

Best to take some time to embrace your own thoughts and feelings that might seem overly intense, as it is important to acknowledge your own truth and what is important to you. Be alert to signs and signals that speak from deep within as it is that exact sense that reveals what you need to know. With Scorpio's influence, thoughts of immortality and what is beyond earthly existence is natural. Desires may surface as a reminder of your life as a force toward fulfillment of the soul journey, making this a good week to connect to your deepest feelings and set in place the intention of manifesting what you genuinely want and want to do.

At 1:27 AM on Monday, October 23, 2017, the Sun enters Scorpio where it will reside until November 20, strengthening convictions and intensifying emotion; there is emphasis on getting to the bottom of anything mysterious or obscure and that falls short of facts and reliability; depth of thought leads you to your innermost sense of yourself and into a well of personal realities. While the Moon is sextile to Venus at 6:16 AM, it soothes feelings with kindness and gentleness, making it easy to find commonality with others; in an easygoing and supportive atmosphere, people are optimistic and see the best in things. Hold up at 7:18 AM as the Moon squares Neptune, an aspect that can cause muddled thinking or a lack of reliable perception where you can easily miss facts and be misled or agree to something you later regret.

As the Moon conjuncts Saturn at 7:56 AM on Tuesday, October 24, 2017, it brings a seriousness and methodical mindset that is grounding, and for some, could be depressing or cause a lethargic attitude; strive to move along with reason, knowing that things will soon pick up. The 11:56 AM Mercury/Neptune trine increases awareness while deepening intuition along with keen perception; you are able to sense what is in the air and the moods of others; along with being able to comprehend those things around you, you are also able to see deep within your subconscious, and from a higher perspective; strong creativity benefits all artistic pursuits; take the time to mediate and physically tune into what you want to know more about as all metaphysical work is heightened. The 12:46 PM Moon/Uranus trine delivers a spark of awareness that opens you to realizations; if you want to know something, now is a good time to listen to your own inner voice as flashes and revelations are beneficial. From 8:13 PM until Friday, the Moon is in Capricorn, making life seem more about managing it and maintaining security; priorities include career, work, doing what sustains you and holding everything in line; this pragmatic energy pulls you away from anything carefree or frivolous. The 11:15 PM Moon/Mars square puts an edge on matters where someone may feel uneasy and confrontational; this is not the time to be hasty or to take risks, nor is it a time to pursue a negative situation as there is an uncertainty that lessens the ability to predict outcomes.

Wednesday, October 25, 2017, begins with a 12:09 AM Moon/Sun sextile, delivering strong, positive rays where it is easy to get into a successful rhythm where life moves forward with positive results; moving in unison with what is already going in a good direction is the best way to work with this ray of harmony and cooperation. The 2:43 AM Moon/Jupiter sextile provides good feelings and optimism making this a time of appreciation and gratitude; this is the time to notice the little things in life; planting seeds that you want to lead to success is a worthwhile activity. While the Moon is sextile to Neptune at 7:56 PM, it accentuates psychic perception and ease of attunement to the environment and to others; you are able to sense more from others when you listen and are also able to know motivations behind what is being said and done; tuning into your higher mind and thoughts brings added awareness.

At 12:50 AM on Thursday, October 26, 2017, the Moon/Mercury sextile results in good communication where all seems to run smoothly with people more open and willing to discuss what is on their minds; this aspect affords a logical mindset for work and business as it is an energy of understanding and easy comprehension. The 2:07 AM Moon/Venus square may thwart or cancel plans as there can be conflicting goals that result in a waste of time and energy; a poor time for beautification efforts such as hairstyling, facial work, beginning works of art, or design work. Intense energy accompanies the 6:50 AM Moon/Pluto conjunct, meaning you may experience keen awareness or feel overwhelmed as strong rays nudge you to go all out even when instinct says "NO"; keep your distance from anyone acting negatively as people can go too far or try to take over for the purpose of control; best to be objective and to keep your distance from unsettled situations. Peaking at 2:10 PM, the Sun/Jupiter conjunct is increase in every way; a positive attitude and hope expand along with whatever you want see prosper and grow; it is easy to build on what you already have and to extend good will; this energy is about growth and a positive outcome for your efforts.

Friday, October 27, 2017, begins with a 1:23 AM Moon/Uranus square, a fragmented energy that can cause unexpected events; there can be fighting and disagreements that remain unresolved; best wait for a better time to tackle issues; something can fall apart. From 8:59 AM until Sunday, the Moon transits through Aquarius, during which time it seems that many are detached and lost in thought, although there is common ground for realizing everyone is in some way connected; good days to explore you life from an objective viewpoint to gain greater understanding. The 3:22 PM Moon/Mars trine offer a nice flow of energy that keeps you going toward gain and making headway; you have a greater ability to achieve what you set out to do with efforts rewarded. While the Moon and Jupiter square at 4:31 PM, best to avoid heaving investing as financial dealings could have challenges and what seems like a good plan could quickly lessen and become empty; take a conservative approach as you could suffer a loss. At 6:23 PM, the First Quarter Moon in Aquarius reminds you of where you need to make a few adjustments; now is the time to notice what is difficult and in need of a shift of focus; compromise may be in order to establish moving forward with less strife or complication. The 11:22 PM Venus/Pluto square is not the time for marriage, engagements, or entering into anything contractual where you are committed over time; this aspect also influences artists and artisans so now is not the time to show or try to publish your work; social encounters can end badly while there can be breaks and endings along with cancellations and complications for groups or events. Conversely, the 11:25 PM Mercury/Pluto sextile is excellent for working with anything requiring depth and understanding; strong communication can go in a good direction; this brings about interesting and profound experiences while traveling; you are able to work with intriguing and significant ideas that are worth your time and consideration.

At 9:02 PM on Saturday, October 28, 2017, the Moon/Venus trine is a pleasant energy that benefits you where you may need to connect with others and to establish harmony and good will; all moves along with ease with a minimum of conflict or objection. While the Moon is square Mercury at 9:35 PM, best to avoid close encounters due to possible misunderstanding; not a good time to take anything or anyone at face value; thoroughly review contracts and anywhere you need to sign agreements—READ THE FINE PRINT.

When the Moon and Saturn sextile at 9:02 AM on Sunday, October 29, 2017, it is a good ray for work and grounding as permanency and reliability are markers that sustain what you do; this is a time of reason and reliability. The 12:22 PM Moon/Uranus sextile adds enthusiasm and extra energy for what you want to do as there is gusto to get going with original ideas and plans; pursue what is new without going too far. From 7:47 PM until Wednesday, the Moon is in Pisces, drawing you deeper into you inner mind and thoughts about your dreams and intuitive visions; this is a cycle of tuning into otherworldly energy, spirit guides and your own ability to perceive through telepathy and psychic sensitivity; beliefs can be the focus for contemplation.

Weekly Words: Strength, Intention & Acknowledgement

Visualization

In quiet contemplation, my life direction expands and grows with positive intention.